

The Party of _____'s Life

Worksheet 10
www.myfuneral.com

1. My Final Domain

Describe the colors, images, features, and functions of your ideal funeral website.

Make a list of the various sections, or pages, of your site, such as a scrapbook of photos, a bio, your farewell video, etc.

Make a list of domain names for your end-of-life web site, then check to see if they're available.

2. My Funeral Video

If you're leaving behind a memorial video, let your team know where to find it. Also, let your team know if you approve of having a webcast or video recording of your funeral.

3. Get Social

Would you like your social networking page(s) to be used to memorialize you, or simply to direct survivors to your website? Describe how your team should use your pages and website.

4. Web Master

- I would like _____ to serve as my webmaster.
- Please hire a web designer to construct and manage my site.

5. Gift Registry

- I'd like a gift registry to be added to my funeral website so my loved ones can receive the mourning gifts they want and deserve. List a few gift registry sites here to make it easier for your team to implement this step.

6. Grief Gifts

Here's a list of gifts my survivors could really use or would really enjoy:

| Name | Relationship to me | Gift |
|-------|--------------------|-------|
| _____ | _____ | _____ |
| _____ | _____ | _____ |
| _____ | _____ | _____ |

| | | |
|--|--|--|

Here's a list of things friends can do to help my family when I die:

7. Accessing Your Account(s)

If you establish your funeral website before you die, or want to help your survivors easily use or close your social networking accounts, you can leave your account username and password in a safe place and let someone you trust know how to access that information when you die.
